PERSONAL.

Judge W. F. Gregory returned from a week's trip to Louisville last Saturday. James Tate, proprietor of the famous turnpike wooden mill, was in town Monday and called to see us.

Judge Carson, of Morgantown, candidate for State Senator, has been in our midst for several days, making love to our people.

Mrs. Eliza Tracy, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Isaac Axton, of Centertown, for sometime past, returned home last week.

Wm. McGary, formerly of Madisonville, but now representing a wholesale hardware house in Cincinnati, was in town Sunday and Monday.

Miss Lizzie Box, art teacher of Hartford College, received a handsome gold chain as a birthday present from her father one day last week.

Miss Mary Taylor, after several weeks' visit to relatives in Owensboro, returned home last week, to the gratification of her many friends here.

Mrs. Mansfield Rowe, who has been visiting the family of Mrs. Bettie Rowe, for a week or more past, returned to her home in Greenville last Monday.

Mr. W. C. Arnold, formerly a citizen of this county, but now a resident of Grayson county, was in town last week and paid his respects to the HERALD office.

Miss Fidelia Hayden left Saturday for Laverne to attend the marriage of her aunt, Miss Whitaker, to Mr. Samuel Humphrey, which will take place to-morrow.

J. M. Gills, Esq., of Virginia, son-in-law of Wm. C. Craddock, and attorney for Craddock's heirs, is in our midst looking after the interest of himself and the other heirs. We had the pleasure of a call from him while here.

Miss Georgia L. Campbell has left Hartford and accepted a position with a fashionable dressmaker in Louisville with a view to become thoroughly conversant with the business so as to engage in the work on her own account at some suitable location. Miss Campbell is an industrious, energetic young lady and deserves success.

For cigars and tobacco call on Lou Hill.

We tender thanks for an invitation to attend a hop at the Grigsby House in Calhoun, on Thursday evening, April 21st, 1881.

Mrs. Jasper N. Sanderfur, of the No Creek neighborhood, has been quite sick for several weeks, with but little change as yet for the better.

Composed of powerful drugs, so compounded as to produce almost miraculous cures, is the history of Kendall's Spavin Cure. Read advertisement.

The Hartford Cornet and String Bands will not give a musical entertainment to-night as was mentioned in last week's HERALD, but have deferred it until some future time.

The young lady teachers of Hartford College have presented Prof. Wayland Alexander, Principal of the College, a large crayon portrait of himself. The picture was executed by Miss Lizzie J. Box, art teacher, which reflects great credit on her ability and skill as an artist.

For pure drinks of all kinds, call on Lou Hill's saloon.

You can get a large looking glass at Thomas Bros. for 65 cents.

Lou Hill is making quite a change in the appearance of his saloon.

Thomas Bros. have reduced the price of their looking glasses to 45 cents.

The Union river convention, I. O. O. F. T., will be held in Rockport May 1st next.

The recent rise in rough creek afforded an opportunity for a large number of saw logs to be run out.

Mrs. Rachel Bell, an old and very much respected lady living three miles from Hartford on the Owensboro road, is very ill.

The next entertainment given by the young ladies club will be at the residence of Judge R. S. Mosely on Friday night, April 25.

Thomas Bros. have opened their soda font, where those wishing the cooling draught can have a chance to regale themselves.

Rev. J. A. Bennett, of Desha, is as happy as a new convert. It's a girl and weighs nine pounds and came to his house last Sunday night.

Virgil Reinfro passed here last Sunday with some very fine rafts of logs bound for Evansville. The Humphrey Bros. also passed with a large number of rafts.

G. J. Beau & Son have just received a large supply of undertaker's goods consisting of caskets, cases, caskets, coffin trimmings, etc., etc., which will be sold low for cash. Give them a call.

The People's Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky., D. K. Mason & Co., proprietors, is a reliable house and gives satisfaction to those patronizing it. Ship your tobacco to them this spring and try them.

Messrs. Sherman and Kump, advance agents of Miles Orton's circus, "advanced" yesterday. They shook the dust of Hartford from their shoes, wiped the mud off their boots and vanished the same day. Luck to you, boys.

Wayne Kinsley, a little son of F. E. Kinsley, accidentally fell from the top of a coal house while playing last week, and dislocated his right arm at the elbow joint. Dr. Tyler Griffin set the bone and the little fellow is doing quite well.

Having sold our grocery to Mrs. L. H. Eldon, we are compelled to close up the accounts due us for groceries. If those owing us do not come forward and settle at once, we will put their accounts, etc., in the hands of an officer. We mean just what we say.

Respectfully, GRIFPIN BROS.

If for little money you wish to be one of the best-dressed men in our county, leave your measure at the best and most reasonable of Louisville's merchant tailors, J. Winter & Co., corner of Third and Market streets, Louisville, Ky. Their show-room of choice goods is on the second floor; in all the days of our life have we never seen such tasteful assortment. We traded at that place.

Quite a serious cutting affair occurred last Saturday night at Magan, a little village in the northern portion of this county, between Henry Midkiff and Caleb Wright. Wright stabbed Midkiff twice in the shoulder and stomach and received a cut himself in the hand. At last reports Midkiff was in rather a precarious condition. We were unable to learn the exact cause of the difficulty, but suppose that whisky was at the bottom of it. No arrests have as yet been made.

—Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 18, 1880.—Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles—I have a very fine mare that has had a lame spavin for a long time. I tried everything that man could devise to cure it, but all in vain, and was about to give it up when a friend of mine in this city came to me and recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure, which I tried with great results, removing that bone clear and clean, and then I sent 25 cents to you for one of your illustrated horse book and I think there is no better book printed on the horse and his diseases. I have taken great interest in it and have since sold it to you for my neighbors and do it gladly for I can by getting them for others. Yours truly, G. W. MILLER.

—Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 18, 1880.—Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles—I have a very fine mare that has had a lame spavin for a long time. I tried everything that man could devise to cure it, but all in vain, and was about to give it up when a friend of mine in this city came to me and recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure, which I tried with great results, removing that bone clear and clean, and then I sent 25 cents to you for one of your illustrated horse book and I think there is no better book printed on the horse and his diseases. I have taken great interest in it and have since sold it to you for my neighbors and do it gladly for I can by getting them for others. Yours truly, G. W. MILLER.

—The best prices paid for all kinds of country produce at Mrs. L. H. Eldon's.

—John P. Magan has purchased the fine Jack Fugate as the "John King" and will stand him the present season at Buford, Ohio county, Ky. Rates reasonable.

—Bring your produce to Mrs. L. H. Eldon's. We pay cash or goods for butter and eggs.

—There will be a mass convention of the Republicans of Ohio county to nominate a candidate for the Legislature, in Hartford, on the first Monday in May next. Every Republican in the county is urged to be present.

—G. J. Beau & Son have just received a large and fresh supply of family and fancy groceries, which will be sold low for cash or exchanged for all kinds of country produce at cash prices. Remember the place.

—There is a young lady at J. P. Sanderfur's. She reached there last Sunday night. Some of the ladies have called to see her, but none of the young men have yet sent their cards, but will probably do so about 16 years hence.

—Do you want a good new wagon? If so, call on John P. Barrett at once. He has one for sale which, if not sold privately before then, will be sold publicly Monday, May 2, 1881. Secure a bargain while you have a chance.

—Miss Orton's circus and menagerie, which wintered at this place, is failed to exhibit here on Saturday, April 30th. The show will leave the next day for a season tour, showing at Cranwell, Monday, May 2d, Rochester, Tuesday, May 3d, Greenville, Wednesday, May 4th.

—Mr. B. B. Taylor informs us that the tobacco plants are up and doing well in the neighborhood of Liberty church. He says that the cold weather has kept the seed from coming up, but that with a few days of nice weather they will come all right.

—Mrs. Jane Duke, widow of Capt. Wm. Duke, deceased, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Taylor, fell while coming down stairs one day last week and broke the bone of her right hip. Mrs. Duke is quite old, and this misfortune will probably make her a cripple the balance of her life.

—The creditors of Geo. W. Binger last week sent him to the amount of $5,500, and attached his best load of hoop-poles. The cargo was placed in the hands of C. W. Phillips to run and sell in court, to be paid out as directed by judgment. Mr. Phillips left Sunday last with a good crew.

—Speaking of Governors suggests the mention of an item we received from Mr. Henry A. Knight, foreman at Chase, Waters & Co.'s Governor and Valve Works, Boston, Mass.: "I have used St. Jacobs Oil among our employees and find that it never fails to cure. The men are delighted with the wonderful effects of the Oil, as it has cured them of bruises, burns, etc."

—The subjoined opinion, we perceive, is by J. A. Daniels, Esq., of Messrs. Stogdill & Daniels, attorneys, La Crosse, Wis., and appears in the La Crosse Chronicle: "Sometime since, I was attacked with pain in and below one of my knee joints. A few applications of St. Jacobs Oil quieted the pain and

The Hydrophobia.

The British Medical Journal says that rabies has always had a great reputation among the anti-hydrophobia remedies, and is found as a principle ingredient in a large number of tonics long kept secret. A young man bitten by a mad dog was shut up in a loft. In his delirium he seized some bottles of dried garlic, ate greedily of it, and awoke calm and cured.

A Wise Plan.

Every man should mind his own business, and only that. It is hard to tell him so in plain words, yet it is one of the simplest rules of conduct, and the most useful that mankind can adopt in their intercourse with each other. There is great deal of Paul Pry-spirit in the human heart, or wonderful inquisitiveness in regard to the personal and private affairs of friends and neighbors. This spirit makes man interfere in the community than almost any other cause. Let every man mind his own business, and there will not be half the trouble in the world that there is at present.

Advice to those in Debt.

Make a full estimate of all you owe, and all that is owing to you. Reduce the same to a note. As fast as you collect it, pay it over to those you owe. If you cannot pay on that, renew your notes every year, giving the best security you can. Do to business dispassionately and industriously. Waste no time in useless to-do. Waste no money in dissipation. Be faithful in duty to God, and do unto all men as you would they should do unto you.

If you are too needy in circumstances to give to the poor, do whatever else is in your power cheerfully, but if you do so help the poor and unfortunate.

Pursue life courageously for seven years, and if you are not happier, comfortable and independent in your circumstances, come to me and I will pay your debts. Baltimore Tribune.

A MOST REMARKABLE CASE.

A lady still living, who is said to have eaten nothing since last October.

Between male and female, there is a difference of kind only, not degree; man is strong, and woman is beautiful and enigmatical, and is, in almost all instances, lovelier, more perfect and more useful.

Take on a Senator.

Congressman Hagard tells a good story of Senator Sharon, which is printed in a Nevada paper. It seems that when Sharon is not strictly sober he becomes loquacious, and his strong point is history and poetry. He was dining with a lot of "literary shams" at Boston once, and although he was introduced to them all, he forgot their names, and after the wine had circulated freely for a while Sharon joined in the conversation very liberally. A historical incident was alluded to by him when a quiet man of venerable appearance corrected Sharon's statement. The Senator was quite indignant, and resented this interruption, and even after the dinner was over the famous history ranked in his breast. He went to the hotel and asked:

"Who is that blank old head that tried to teach me history?"

"His name is Bancroft," quietly replied the host.

"What does he do?" asked Sharon.

"He writes histories for a living."

"What? Bancroft's History of the United States?"

"Yes."

"Great Scott! Won't you be good enough to order my carriage?"

What an Old Farmer Says.

This is the advice of an old man who has lived the soil for forty years:

1. I am an old man, upward of three score years, during the course of which I have been rich and have all I need, do not own a dollar, have given my children a good education, and when I am called away shall leave them enough to keep the wolf from the door. My experience has taught me that:
1. Unimproved land, well prepared and well tilled, produces more than two which received only the same amount of labor used on one.
2. The cow, horse, mule, sheep or hog well fed is more profitable than two kept on the same amount necessary to keep one well.
3. One acre of clover or grass is worth more than two of corn when the mow or clover is raised.
4. No farmer who buys oats, corn or wheat, fodder and hay, can keep the sheriff from the door to the end.
5. The farmer who never reads the papers, sneers at book learning and improvements, always has a lousy roof, poor stock, broken down teams, and complains of bad "seasons."
6. The farmer who adds his business and outlays it to another business, soon has to business transiently.
7. The farmer whose individual leverage is cold water is healthier, wealthier and wiser than he who does not refuse to drink.

Legend of Brotherly Love.

There is a beautiful legend connected with the site on which the Temple of Solomon was erected. It is said to have been occupied in common by two brothers, one of whom had a family. The other had none. On the spot was a field of wheat. On the evening succeeding the day of the wheat being gathered in, the older brother said to his wife: "My younger brother is unable to bear the burden and heat of the day; I will arise, take all my shocks, and place them with his without his knowing." The other, being assured by the same benevolent motive, said within himself: "My older brother has a family; I will arise, take all my shocks and place them with his without his knowing." Judge of their mutual astonishment when on the following morning they found their respective shocks undisturbed. This course of events repeated for several nights, when each resolved in his own mind to stand guard and solve the mystery. The day did not on the following night they met each other half way between their respective shocks with their arms full. Upon ground hallowed by such associations as this was the Temple of King Solomon erected.

A Never-Failing Cure FOR PILES.

THOMAS & KIMBLEY, HARTFORD, KY.

TESTIMONIALS.

We, physicians of Hartford, and Ohio County, Ky., knowing Messrs. Thomas & Kimbley to be gentlemen of integrity and financial responsibility for all they warrant, and knowing the ingredients which enter into the compound which composes their Pile Salve, we have no hesitancy in recommending it to the public as a good remedy for that prevalent disorder.

I have used and prescribed Messrs. Thomas & Kimbley's Pile Ointment in hundreds of cases, and with good effect and comfort to my patients, and believe it a good remedy for the above named disease.

I know the component parts of Thomas & Kimbley's Pile Ointment, and in many cases think it a safe and reliable remedy.

I have prescribed Thomas & Kimbley's Pile Ointment for hemorrhoids, and am thoroughly satisfied of its good effects.

This Salve, if the directions are strictly complied with, is WARRANTED to effect a cure. It will give relief in ten minutes. Give it a trial, and if not satisfactory, we pay back your money. Price per bottle, 50 Cents. THOMAS & KIMBLEY. Druggists, Hartford, Ky.
